

Edward Eyth – Sculptor

Edward Eyth's figurative sculptures have been exhibited in major cities and featured in select private collections around the world. Primarily working in bronze, he also produces certain pieces that are exclusively cast with custom-formulated GigaCrete casting materials. "These materials offer a refined level of surface detail that accurately replicates the original work," Eyth states. "The products are easy to work with and have no shrinkage, while providing a level of durability and permanence that rivals bronze."
